Tariro Vocational Training Center

We established a partnership with Tariro, a Christian Vocational – Technical training center about a mile from our current base in Mozambique. Tariro means hope, and we believe this partnership will bring hope to Mozambique! It’s a two year discipleship program that also teaches employable skills such as metal work/ welding, carpentry, auto mechanics and agriculture.

2016 Report

Thank you for praying, supporting and partnering with us as we bring Good News to every realm of society in Mozambique.

2016 has been a GREAT year.

- Our programs are growing.
- We’ve recruited new, long-term missionary staff.
- We have partnered with Tariro Vocational/Technical School and Discipleship program.
- We’re launching into two new people groups (possibly three)! Between these three tribes, there are over 6 million people to reach with the Gospel!

2017 holds great promises!

2017 Outreaches

Yao Tribe

There are about two million Yao. This people group mixes tribal beliefs with Islam. Their tribe spans through northern Mozambique, Malawi and Tanzania. They are almost entirely unreached, but they are within our reach!

Makua Tribe

The Makua live next to the Yao in Mozambique, Malawi and Tanzania. They number around three and a half million and also mix traditional beliefs with Islam and witchcraft.

Tonga Tribe

In some of the remotest parts of Zimbabwe, Zambia and Malawi live an intriguing tribal group called the Tonga. They adhere to ancestral worship and cultural beliefs. They are open to the Gospel. They number roughly 1,380,000 in Zimbabwe, and many more in Zambia and Malawi.

Prayer Requests

- Safety for our team & visitors & safety from the hazards of living in a tropical environment.
- Local pastors & government leaders, that they would go forward & lead with grace, wisdom & a heart for the people they serve.
- New ministry program: We are expanding our children's ministry in a new region.

Yes, there have been challenges as well: armed political unrest, malaria, the usual rigors of living in a tropical, diseased, impoverished country. But the difficulties are the very things that give us opportunities to minister Christ to the poor, healing to the sick, hope to the impoverished, freedom to those imprisoned... So we can "rejoice in all things" because our Lord still gives beauty for ashes and joy for mourning.

We currently have missionaries learning language in preparation to reach out to the Makua and Yao, and perhaps to the Tonga as well. Pray for more laborers to join us for this vast harvest. The people are receptive. We just need more missionaries willing to come, learn the language and share the Gospel of God's great love.

If you love me, feed my lambs: After Jesus died, Peter had his doubts. He went back to his nets and while fishing, he saw Jesus cooking breakfast on the shore. He immediately jumped out of the boat and swam to him. Three times Jesus asked him, "Peter, do you love me?" "Yes, Lord. You know that I do." And three times Jesus said, "Feed my lambs." I think He's happy about our work. For over a decade, thousands of hungry "lambs" have been fed. The thirsty have drunk. The naked were clothed (or diapered), the sick were healed, the strangers were invited in. Lives and souls were saved, churches were planted and established. And the Good News was preached to the poor.

Thank you for your support, partnership and generosity. Let's keep loving Jesus for many more decades together!
